Integrated Practice Clinician

$85,563.25 - $97,633.20 annually, which includes a 4 Grid Temporary Market Adjustment

The community-based Child and Youth Mental Health (CYMH) team is a dedicated group of experienced clinicians with a supportive team leader. Together, we bring energy, expertise and a commitment to knowledge-sharing, working alongside families and community partners to deliver wrap-around support for children, youth and their families. Join us in our shared mission to foster wellness in the community through collaboration and mutual respect.

The Integrated Practice position within Child and Youth Mental Health works specifically with children, youth and families that are involved with teams such as child protection intake, family service, guardianship, and adoptions teams. Through a neurodevelopmental and trauma informed approach the Integrated Practice Clinician engages the community care teams of children, youth and families in a collaborative treatment effort to help mitigate the impact of abuse, trauma, neglect, violence and other adverse childhood experiences on their well-being and help increase their care environment and relationship and relational stability.

The BC Public Service is committed to creating a diverse workplace to represent the population we serve and to better meet the needs of our citizens. Consider joining our team and being part of an innovative, inclusive and rewarding workplace.
