Job Summary:

We are seeking a dedicated Youth and Family Outreach Worker to collaborate with youth and their parents/caregivers to enhance family dynamics by addressing conflict, improving communication, and developing coping and parenting skills. This role involves working with families from diverse backgrounds, many of whom have experienced trauma and face complex issues such as parent teen conflict, abuse issues, mental health concerns, housing and food insecurity. The Youth and Family Outreach Worker will advocate for families in interactions with schools and ministries, connect them with community resources, and engage in both office-based and outreach activities to build trust and relationships with our clients. By supporting families in setting and achieving goals, the Youth and Family Outreach Worker aims to reduce conflict, build skills, and foster positive relationships within the family unit.

Youth Resource Centre : Archway Community Services

Your Role:

Archway's Youth and Family Outreach Worker with the Youth Resource Centre contributes by:

- Providing assessment, planning and supportive interventions for, and with clients of the Youth Resource Centre.
- Assisting clients in identifying, understanding, and overcoming personal/family problems, connecting or reconnecting to positive community and family networks, and in establishing and achieving realistic goals.
- Supporting parents in setting boundaries, self-care, communication skills and re-establishing or maintaining a healthy relationship with their youth.
- Educating parents on adolescent development, substance use, mental health issues, sexual exploitation, and other related topics as applicable.

- Liaising with youth to obtain their perspectives, gathering information, finding common ground, and determining the best course of action based on identified needs.
- Providing mediation between youth and parents.
- Collaborating with other youth services in the community, including schools and the Ministry.

This position is a great fit for someone who has excellent communication, mediation, and networking skills; has knowledge of youth culture and current trends, and has the ability to work with both male and female youth.
